

FIONA THE FAIRNESS HERO

Hi, I'm Fiona the Fairness Hero!
I may seem like an ordinary girl, but there's something very special about me. I have Fairness Power!

Every day, I look for ways to be fair. One way I do this is by sharing equally. When I saw my mom making pancakes, my Fairness Power glowed. I made sure my little brother and I got the same number of pancakes.

As I was finishing breakfast, the doorbell rang. My neighbor, Janie, asked if she could walk to school with my best friend and I. My Fairness Power glowed. I include others. I told Janie that we'd love to have her walk with us!

We got to school early and played four square outside. My Fairness Power glowed. Before we started, I went over the rules. I make sure we all follow the same rules and play by the rules. Playing fair is always more fun!

In class, we started with technology centers. I really wanted to play at the tablet center, but it was already full. My Fairness Power glowed. I take turns. I let everyone have a chance to play, speak, and participate. I chose to wait patiently for my turn.

In PE we played dodgeball. As I was picking up a ball, I felt a friend's ball hit me in the back. My Fairness Power glowed. I do not cheat, bend rules, or change rules to benefit me. I said, "You got me! I'm out!" and ran to sit out.

At lunch, Cesar skipped Cora in line. My Fairness Power glowed. During a disagreement, I listen to both sides. I hear both perspectives before deciding what is right. I listened to both Cesar and Cora and helped them talk out their problem.

At recess, Maya was crying.
Two classmates were teasing her about her new haircut.
My Fairness Power glowed.
I speak up for what is right.
I stand up when someone is being treated unfairly. I comforted Maya and told our classmates to stop.

At snack time, my teacher asked me to help hand out the snacks. My Fairness Power glowed. I share and divide things up equally. I made sure each student was treated fairly and got the same snack.

At the end of the day,
my teacher said, "Fiona,
you're such a Fairness Hero!" I smiled and said,
"The truth is, anyone can be a Fairness Hero.
You don't need a cape or a badge. You just need a fair heart."

HOW CAN YOU BE A FAIRNESS HERO
TODAY?
