"Clark the Shark" Directions:

- This lesson is a companion to the story "Clark the Shark" by Bruce Hale and focuses on self-control. Please start by either reading the story aloud or showing students a YouTube video read-aloud.
 - After the story, please use this presentation with students. It summarizes the story and teaches students how to stay in control of their thoughts, feelings, and choices.
 - Then, it asks students to read one of 24 scenarios and decide if it is a choice that is in control or out of control. If it shows self-control, students drag the check mark to the square under the happy, in control Clark. If the choice is out of control, students drag the check mark to the sad, out of control Clark.
- On the last 3 slides, students can type their answers directly in the text boxes.
