FEED THE FRIENDS GOOD & SAFE CHOICES

Session Objective:

*Students will sort choices that are safe/healthy and unsafe/unhealthy.

Materials:

*Scissors, tape/glue, pencils.

*People, trash can, and choices cut out (in advance).

*Paper bags to glue person and trash can to (if you choose to sort that way).

Guiding Questions:

*What are some choices that are unhealthy/unsafe made during summer?

*What is the difference between unhealthy and unsafe choices?

Session Details (about 30 minutes)

*Say "What we put in our bodies and how we treat our bodies is important to our overall well-being. The choices we make can make us healthier and have our bodies function better, or they can make our bodies sick or in danger of injury. That is why it is so important to make good and safe choices. We are going to do an activity to practice this by sorting between the good/safe choices and the bad/unsafe choices." Choose between the 4 people options, and place one on the table with the trash can. "We are going to put the good and safe choices in the person's mouth. The bad and unsafe choices we are going to put in the trash can. Let's do one together, walking and not running, is this a good or bad choice? (wait for responses) Walking is safe, so we put the walking card into the person's mouth." Continue with the rest of the sorting cards. Pass out the accompanying handouts and have students explain why they chose safe/unsafe for each item. Then pass out the Bad and Unsafe choices handout. Say "Bad choices are not good for your overall health and well-being. Unsafe choices are dangerous and can hurt you. Put a checkmark on the items determining if they are bad or unsafe choices." Afterward, have students complete the pledge by writing in four ways they are going to make healthy and safe choices and signing.
