DIRECTIONS:

Recommended Materials:

cardstock, scissors, hook-and-loop fastener dots, Ziploc™ bag

To Create:

These token boards are designed for children who need extra support to manage their behavior. I recommend training all of the teachers (including specials) that see the child on how to use the board so that it can be consistently used throughout the school day. It is also important to very clearly train the child on how the board works (how they can earn tokens, which reward choices are available to them, etc.) to get their buy-in and understanding with the system. There are MANY options to choose from – including the number of tokens (3, 4, 5, or 6) and the theme (30 total, see the list included!). Please choose the number of tokens that best matches the child's needs and let the child choose the theme that they like best. You will notice that the tokens are labeled at the top with which theme board they go with. For more severe behaviors and/or younger children, I recommend starting with 3 or 4 tokens. As the child's behaviors improve over time, you can gradually introduce more tokens.

First, please type the child's name on the banner at the top. Next, please print out the board, tokens, goal choices, and reward choices. Blank cards are included if you would like to create your own. I recommend using cardstock so that it is sturdy. Please cut out the token, goal choice, and reward choice cards. Please place one side of a hook-and-loop fastener dot on each empty square on the token board, and the other side of the hook-and-loop fastener dot on the back side of the token, goal, and reward cards. I like to keep my token boards on a clipboard so that students can easily carry it with them from class to class. You can tape a Ziploc™ bag to the back of the clipboard to store all of the extra cards.

To Use:

To use the board, please first choose 3 goals that the child will be focusing on and attach them to the board where it says, "my goals." Please review the goals with the child and refer back to them each time a child earns a token and each time they need a reminder to get back on track. Next, please let the child choose a reward that is available and accessible at your school and attach it to the "I can earn" space. Now, when you observe the child engaging in one of the positive behaviors/goals, you can place one token on their board. I like to point to the goal that I observed in the child when I place the token on their board so that they know which good choice they made. Once the child earns all of the tokens, they earn the reward that they chose. For most children, it is important to provide the reward as soon as possible after earning it so that it does not lose its reinforcement power/to maintain buy-in. Also, please keep in mind that an educator should NEVER take away a token that the child has earned. Once a token is on the board, no matter how a child acts in the future, that token remains there.

Questions, comments, or suggestions? Please contact me any time at laura@musiccitycounselor.com. I am here to help!

PS I SO appreciate when you please take a moment to leave a review on my resources on my TpT store page. It earns you credits towards future purchases, helps other educators find quality resources, and helps my small business grow!
